

Save the date

Gender, Class, Race, and Ethnicity in Abolitionism, on the Underground Railroad, and in the Struggle Since

February 26-28, 2010

The 9th annual Underground Railroad History Conference

Hosted by Russell Sage College, Troy, NY

Organized by Underground Railroad History Project of the Capital Region, Inc.

In Collaboration with Rensselaer County Historical Society

Information available at: www.ugrworkshop.com or 518-432-4432

Friday 2/26 day: Educator Workshop

- The Not So Underground Underground Railroad, presented by Kathy Sheehan, Rensselaer County Historian and Mary Liz Stewart, independent researcher and co-founder of URHPCR, Inc.

Friday 2/26 evening: Lecture and Reception

Guest Lecturer: Rhonda Y. Williams, PhD

- Organization of American Historians Distinguished Lecturer
- Associate professor of history at Case Western Reserve University
- Program faculty for the ethnic studies and women and gender studies programs
- Author of The Politics of Public Housing: Black Women's Struggles Against Urban Inequality (2004)

Saturday 2/27 day: Workshops, Exhibits, Concerts, and more

Keynote Speaker: Rosemary Sadlier

- President, Ontario Black History Society
- Lobbied Canadian government to declare February as Black History Month throughout Canada
- Author of The Kids Book of Black Canadian History (2003), Tubman: Harriet Tubman and the Underground Railroad, Her Life in the United States and Canada (1996), Mary Ann Shadd: Publisher, Editor, Teacher, Lawyer, Suffragette (1994)

Saturday 2/27 evening: Art Exhibit Opening & Book Signing

Mark Priest, artist - The Charles Nalle Rescue exhibit

Scott Christianson, author - Freeing Charles book signing

Sunday 2/28 day: tours of African American heritage sites in Troy

Underground Railroad History Project of the Capital Region, Inc. researches, preserves, and celebrates New York's history of the Underground Railroad, highlighting the role of African-American freedom seekers and abolitionists

URHPCR is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization provisionally chartered by the Regents of the University of the State of New York

Conference events are open to all who are interested - Please join us - It's a great way to spend a weekend!